2. ELIGIBILITY

To be eligible for the 2017 competition, entries must have been published or aired between January 1, 2016 and May 1, 2017, with the full knowledge and approval of the advertiser. All winners must be able to show proof of media buys if requested. Entries submitted to the New York Festivals International Advertising competition in the prior competition year are not eligible to compete in this year's competition and refunds will not be made.

Entries submitted to the New York Festivals International Advertising Awards in the previous competition and aired between January, 1 2017 and May 1, 2017 can be submitted again this year as long as they are submitted in a different competition.

2A. IMPORTANT - SCAM ADS: New York Festivals was the first advertising competition to ban "Scam Ads" – ads that were never published, or were published without the full knowledge and consent of the advertiser. Our SCAMGUARD system, the oldest and strongest policy in the industry, encourages jury members to anonymously flag suspicious ads and include comments in support of their suspicions. Every flagged entry is investigated; should the evidence prove the ad to be a scam, the entry will be disqualified and the people listed in the credits of the entering company will be barred from entering our competitions for a period of three years.

2B. "OTHER" Category: The "Other" category is provided to the entrant for any entries that do not fit into any of the existing categories. Upon review, New York Festivals will submit the entry into the most appropriate category.

IMPORTANT: New York Festivals gives the Executive Jury the right to move an entry to a different competition or category should they determine the work does not belong in the category and/or competition in which it was originally entered. By moving the ad to another category the Executive Jury will agree it will receive an award equal to, or higher than the one it was originally scheduled to receive.

Entries can be submitted into as many competitions and categories as one wishes, but the entrant must pay a separate fee for each entry.

3. SYNOPSIS

A brief synopsis is required for all entries. The synopsis should be broken down into three parts containing two-three sentences each: objective, concept and target audience. The synopsis should be no longer than 200 words total.

4. ENTRIES IN LANGUAGES OTHER THAN ENGLISH

If your entry is not in English, you MUST provide a translation or detailed synopsis in the space provided on the online entry form for the jury members. If you are submitting creative materials offline for your entry, a digital translation on CD or DVD must be attached and mailed with the entry form.

Film: It is strongly recommended that translations be included in the film as clear legible subtitles. White letters on black bar is recommended.

Radio: If your entry is not produced in English, a complete script in English for radio is required in order for the jury to understand the entry. Include script text in the translation space on the entry form.

Websites: Translate only relevant menu sections, headlines, and text.

5. ENTRY SPECIFICATIONS

TEXT FORMATTING

All entries MUST use the following standards for text formatting. These standards allow the juries to properly judge and showcase your work:

Title of Entry and Brand Name Format: Proper case (all first letters capitalized) must be used in the title and brand name. Campaigns must be named with a single series title or with individual ad titles separated by slashes.

Single entry example:
Title of Entry
